WITHOUT PURE BLOOD HEALTH IS IMPOSSIBLE.

VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE

Never before was there anything like it, nor are its marvelous properties likely ever to be equalled in diseases arising from impure blood. It searches out and expels from the vital current every lurking trace of poisonous matter, curing blood and skin diseases, scrofulous and glandular swellings, bad legs, abscesses, ulcers, eczema, gout, rheumatism, gonorrhea or Derbyshire Neck, etc. It improves the general health and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.

CITY FULL OF INTRIGUE.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

Events follow each other with startling and dramatic suddenness that it is unusually difficult to present a clear outline of the military and political situation as it exists to-day. So much intrigue and propaganda are operating that a new phase may be developed at any time by the disintegration of an ascendant party and the emergence of a new group.

The debate at Shanhuikwan and the failure of reinforcements to reach Tientsin, in order to make an attack upon Peking, followed by the flight of Wu Peifu on a warship, created a situation which was becoming intelligible, but confusion became more confounded when Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang brought off his second coup on November 5th. Many foreigners recalled that it was Guy-Fawkes Day and quoted the words of the old rhyme associated with "gunpowder, treason and plot." The news that the Manchu Emperor had been driven from the Imperial Palace startled the whole community. Very few people, Chinese or foreign, were heard to approve the action. Condemnation of the harsh act was voiced almost universally. Why do it at this time when there is so much trouble? This was perhaps the form in which the mildest criticism was couched. Naturally many people see in this treatment of the Manchu House the evil hand of M. Karakhan (the Soviet Ambassador to Peking). Indeed, the belief is very common that the coup is due to Bolshevik influence. Foreigners could have understood the reasons for the coup had there been, as alleged by the Far Eastern Times, a plot to restore the monarchy, but Dr. C. T. Wang, Minister for Foreign Affairs, informed correspondents the following day that the Government had no knowledge of any such plot. Dr. Wang set out to explain that the execution of the Emperor was really the completion of the Revolution of 1911. But this argument cannot well be advanced in view of the fact that the Treaty between the Qing House and the Chinese Government gave the Emperor certain privileges, of which he has been rudely deprived without notice. Further, he was compelled to consent to a revised agreement which was presented to him by the men who were entrusted with the duty of turning him out and obtaining possession of the Palace treasure. The eviction, as it is called, might have been conducted in another manner. As it is the Emperor has attracted sympathy from even those who looked with little favour upon his House. Nor is it opinion divided as to the reason for the eviction. To secure the treasures before others came to Peking to share the spoils is believed to be the motive of those who organised the coup, and this view is not negatived by sight of the procession of carts and camels under military escorts which daily leave the Palace laden with boxes. Neither C. T. Wang nor Feng Yu-hsiang have enhanced their reputation among foreigners by having lent themselves to this proceeding. Nor have the Government gained any credit through the nauseating propaganda which endeavoured to plain the course taken as having been directed in the interests of the Emperor by giving him his freedom. The residence of his father, where he now is, continues to be surrounded by soldiers.

THE ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE.

Speculation is rife as to the outcome of the Round Table Conference to be held at Tientsin, whether Chang Tso-lin and Feng Yu-hsiang have already arrived. At this early date, these two are reported to have had a split, while doubts are expressed of the success of the coming. Little is known as to what is happening outside. Fengtien troops are said to be moving down the Tsin-pu line with a view to checking any movement on the part of General Chi, but the general belief is that Wu Peifu will go to Nanjing and consult with Chi as to future plans.

CINEMA NOTES.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

"The Greater Claim." A Metro special starring adorable Alice Lake, comes to the Queen's Theatre to-day for a run of four days, as the feature attraction. This story will be welcomed by all who know of Alice Lake's splendid achievements. She plays the part of Mary Smith, the Pollies beauty, married by youth and wealthy "Chuck" Everard. The latter is kidnapped by his spite father and shipped to sea, and Mary takes to "Broadway" carefree life, in revenge. Then her child, through strange circumstances, becomes adopted into grandfather's home, where it proves the means of reconciliation, but only after a shrewd Solomon's choice foils the intrigue of two adventurers. Miss Lester the popular American comedienne will give a repertoire of new songs, etc.

THE CORONET THEATRE.

Commencing its seventh, and it is to be hoped equally successful year, the Coronet Theatre does so with notices on its portals reading: "House full—this show."—A certain and sure augury for the future of the Little House which it cannot be too often insisted on, does show the Big Pictures. In "The Thief of Bagdad" we find the restless Douglas Fairbanks at his superlative best, and note another side to a bewildering character. It seems a work of supererogation to attempt a description of this film and the absolute artistry which has gone to its making. Crowds have already discovered that for themselves and have come away from the Theatre deciding to go again. As an entertainment it has no rival for it has been truly said that "all the pantomimes of the World seem to have contributed to 'The Thief of Bagdad.'" It is appreciated in England with the same intensity that it is elsewhere. As "House full" is likely to be the order of the week, the advice to make certain of a seat may sound superfluous.

METHODS OF VALUING PROPERTY.

INTERESTING JUDGMENT BY SINGAPORE APPEAL COURT.

Important judgments were given in the Court of Appeal at Singapore last week by the Chief Justice (Sir Walter Shaw), Mr. Justice Whiteley, and Mr. Justice Barrett-Lennard, on the question of the correct method of ascertaining the market value of property.

The case was one in which a Malacca Chinese appealed against a decision of Mr. Justice Action as to the value of two houses at Malacca which were acquired by the Municipality.

In giving judgment, the Chief Justice said that the objection to this award put forward on behalf of the appellant was that the assessors had worked on a wrong basis in fixing the value of this property. They had arrived at their decision, however, after hearing evidence as to the actual prices realised for adjoining and similar properties, and held under similar leases. It had been said that the value should have been assessed by capitalising the annual rents which were being received at the present time for the property, after making allowances for the short period that the leases had still to run.

No doubt the question of rent was an important element. His Lordship continued, in arriving at the market value, but in many cases it was not a measure of the market value. A sum based on the capitalisation of the present value of the property in very many cases would result in some figure entirely different to what a willing purchaser would be prepared to give. That method obviously could not apply to building land, or even to houses near towns, to agricultural land in England, to neighbourhoods that had deteriorated, or in cases where the value of the land rose and fell with a boom and slump in prices and prosperity such as had been experienced in this country in recent years. In His Lordship's opinion the principle which the appellant sought to set up would in many cases be a most erroneous one; on the other hand the principle followed in the court below seemed to be much less open to objection, and much more likely to arrive at the correct market value. The appeal would be dismissed.

Mr. Justice Whiteley agreed, remarking in the course of his judgment that the surest guide to market value was to be found in actual market transactions. Mr. Justice Barrett-Lennard disagreed. He said that although he had reached a different conclusion, he was in full agreement with the principles which had been laid down in the other judgments. In the absence of other evidence, however, he thought that the correct principle to be followed was to multiply the highest annual value which might reasonably be expected from the property by the number of years of purchase, this figure to be decided as the special circumstances required.

THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA FOR RESIDENCE, FARMING, TRAVEL

The Union of South Africa is a seat of Western culture and civilisation. Europeans have been settled there for nearly three centuries.

It is a country that merits the attention of those Europeans who contemplate leaving the Far East. If they are retiring on pension, there are many pleasant South African towns in which to live. Or if they seek a career, and have a moderate capital, there is scope in South Africa for advancement in fruit-growing.

The climate is good. It is sunny but temperate being neither inclement in winter nor oppressive in summer. It is a genial climate in which Europeans, including women and children, thrive without periodically going abroad.

Educational facilities for the young are excellent. The larger towns are up-to-date and well-equipped. There are numerous resorts—mountain, river and marine, for an occasional change. In short, the Union of South Africa is a more than ordinarily attractive country for those who have an assured income or the capital with which to start a career.

A comprehensive official publication on the subject is being issued. It contains, for every typical South African town, specific data about climate, environment, amenities, housing, cost of living, servants; and generally such information as will enable enquirers to judge urban residential conditions in the Union of South Africa. Exploratory publications on farming are also available.

CLUB "TAMAR"

On the Navy "A" ground, before a good number of spectators these teams played a fast and even game throughout.
The fortunes of war favoured first one team and then the other, but on the general run, the game was mostly in favour of the sailors.The sailors made several changes in their team while the Club made but one.
Howard playing in the forward line in place of Forsyth. The exchanges were even in the opening minutes until Jones broke away for the Club and Wavish was called upon to clear from a fast low drive. Play was soon at the other end where Gerard let in Johnson and the winger, amidst applause, beat Rodger with a high shot from close range. The goalkeeper had no chance whatever to see the ball after it left the foot of Johnson until it came to rest in the net. This unexpected reverse woke up the Club, but Jones found his inside men very slow while his wing men were weak in accepting passes. Corners fell to both sides but shooting was wild. Just before the interval Jones found himself well placed when he received the ball from Watson but with a fast drive just cleared the crossbar. Halftime: Tamar, 1; E.K.
Club, 0.From the restart the sailors took up the attack and Rodger was called upon to clear from Johnson, while shortly afterwards Prior, receiving from Hand-ford, turned the ball outside the posts.
Bishop was working hard to keep out the Tamar forwards and succeeded, while at the other end Jones was testing Wavish from long range. Leonard stopped Pile, but was forced to concede a corner which however was fruitless. Towards the close the sailors put on pressure but failed to add to their score and the final whistle sounded leaving them winners by the only goal scored. On the general run of the play, the sailors deserve their win.The Club team could not settle down chiefly through the bustling tactics of the sailors, found Handford always in attendance while the rest of the front line was weak. The defence was not safe although Bishop put in some good work.
The middle line worked hard but they were up against a speedy forward line.
Rodger, although beaten early in the game, played a safe game in goal. The Tamar was strong in defence while Hand-ford played a brainy game in the centre half position. The forwards were speedy too, Johnson doing well on the wing.
Tamar:—Wavish; Ball and Leonard;
Sandy, Handford and Seals; Johnson,
Roberts, McBrinn, Brown and Prior.
H.K. Club:—G. Rodger; Gerard and Bishop; Mair, J. Stewart and J. Watson;
Pile, Howard, Jones, Evelyn and Key.
 Referee: Mr. F. Smith.
SOUTH CHINA "A" vs. SOUTH CHINA "B"At Sookunpoo the "A" team beat the "B" by a goal to one. The usual crowd of Chinese lined the road, the stands being almost empty until the interval when the crowd was admitted free of charge. The "B" team could field ten men only throughout. At the interval the "A" team were leading by two goals to nil. Tang Cheung Fook scoring both.After the change of ends the same game got through again and the "A" team were leading by three goals to nil.
Tang Shui Wai scored for the "B" team and Wong Shui Wai scoring three times in succession for the "A," they ran out winners by six goals to one.
"A" Team:—Wong Pak Chong; Yuen
Chow Yam and Lau Mow; Yu Wing
Chan, Leung Yuk Tong and Lam Yuk
Ying; Pang Kam Wing, Wong Shui Wa.

EAST SURREYS vs. KOWLOON.

Playing at home Kowloon went down heavily to the East Surreys in a fast scoring game by five goals to two. The same team had to take the field without their Captain McKelver, and Taylor came out to complete the side. Duncan dropped over to the centre half position, while Taylor replaced him on the left wing. Facing the sun the home team quite held their opponents, and with a little luck would have been one up in the opening minutes of the game. Douglas, the Surreys' goalkeeper, misjudged a dropping shot from Clemo but managed to turn the ball round the post for a corner. The flag kick was well taken, but Vickers was wide with his shot.
The Surreys then transferred and Butler, receiving from Eaton, had a good chance to open the score for them, but lifted the ball into the hands of Beach.The next moment Humberstone was responsible for a fine movement but it ended weakly and Beach cleared. Eaton was the first to score, receiving a forward pass from Humberstone he took the ball on the run and sent it into the net. Shortly afterwards the Surreys went further ahead, for Humberstone, meeting the ball from a centre by Charlesworth, gave Beach no chance with a high shot. The home team tried to rally, but Clemo was very good on the wing, but the inside forwards could not finish and several fine centres were wasted. Good play by Charlesworth led up to the Surreys' third goal, for after Humberstone had stopped the ball from a pass by the winger, Eaton, with a first timer, sent it into the net, Beach not seeing the ball until it landed there. At the interval the scores were East Surreys, 3; Kowloon, 0.From the restart the Surreys took up the attack on the left. Wheeler stopped a shot from the left and Butler catching the ball on the rebound sent in a fine screw shot. Kowloon, now being four goals down, worked hard to pull the game round. Jordan, during the rush, headed just outside the penalty area.

McBride sent in along the ground and the ball rebounding from a defender, "Bif-Bride" sent it into the net, thereby opening the score for the home team. Humberstone soon replied for the Surreys, for following up good work in midfield the centre forward scored with a fast shot. Kowloon were not down and out, but came up gamely, and Pasco scored their second goal with a fast low drive, for although Douglas stopped the ball he failed to hold it and it went between his legs into the net. With but a few minutes to go, the home team tried hard to reduce the lead against them but the final whistle found them defeated by five goals to two.The Surreys worked well together and played their best game of the season.
Mitchell was outstanding in the middle line and had the home inside forwards bottled up. The Surreys backs were good while the whole front line showed good combination. The centres from Charlesworth led up to the second and third goals for the Surreys. Humberstone played a dashing game and was always at the right spot. Clemo was the pick of the Kowloon forwards. Wheeler and Knight worked hard in the defence, while Beach, who was making his debut in senior football, put in some good work, although beaten five times.
East Surreys:—Douglas; Cooper and Jordan; Pether, Mitchell and Bristowe; Charlesworth, Eaton, Humberstone, Butler and Macleworth.
Kowloon:—Beach; F. Wheeler and Knight; Turner, A. Duncan and Pasco; Clemo, McBride, Vickers, Hayes and Taylor.
 Referee: Mr. Spencer.
KOWLOON RESERVES vs. SOUTH
CHINA "A"Playing at home South China went down to the Kowloon Reserves by the odd goal to five. The play was fast and even throughout. Brown scored the only goal of the first half. Kowloon leading the interval. Soon after the change of ends Transbisky put the visitors further ahead, but Ip Kau reduced their lead with a fast shot following a breakaway. South China attacked from the centre kick and Cho Kam Fook levelled up and there was wild cheering. A dingdong struggle ensued and just on time Brown got through again and won the match for Kowloon.CLUB DE RECREIO "A" vs. EAST SURREYS RESERVES.As was expected, a fine game was seen on the Navy "A" ground between the above teams, the match ending in a goalless draw. A most regrettable incident happened at the close of the game when two of the players attempted to settle a dispute that arose during the progress of the game. The bout of fistuffs was stopped by the intervention of the H.K.F.A. Officials.H.K. CLUB RESERVES vs. SACRED HEART.Playing on the Club ground the Reserves just managed to beat Sacred Heart, the final score reading—Club Reserves, 1; Sacred Heart, 0.
At the interval the score sheet was blank. Early in the second half the Club failed to improve on a penalty kick.
Douglas scored the only goal of the match.SOUTH CHINA "B" vs. ST.
JOSEPH'S "A"At Sookunpoo St. Joseph's had a very easy game against South China "B" and won by four goals to nil.CLUB DE RECREIO "B" vs. EAST SURREYS DRUMS.Playing at Kowloon the Drums just managed to beat the Club de Recreio
"B" in a very fast and well-contested game. At the interval the Drums were leading, Mumby having beaten Forandes, although the Recreio team had most of the game during the first half.
Early in the second half the Club should have levelled up but failed to take advantage of a misunderstanding between the Drums backs. However the Drums goalkeeper saved and for the rest of the game the soldiers were in the Recreio field of play, but Fernandez was very safe in goal and the final whistle sounded with the scores: East Surreys Drums, 1; Club de Recreio "B," 0.

THE LATEST SENSATION AT PEKING.

MATTERS would seem to be taking a turn for the worse at Peking, judging from the fact that the ex-Emperor has taken refuge in the Japanese Legation. It is quite clear, as Reuter's message says, that the young Emperor had nothing to fear either from the new Chief Executive or from Marshal CHANG TSO-LIN. On the contrary, if the dominance of these two War Lords in Peking could be regarded as secure, the ex-Emperor had good reason to anticipate that the injustice done to him by the "Christian General" in tearing up the Abdication-Agreement would speedily be rectified, as Marshal

TUAX, from his home at Tientsin, lost no time, when he learnt of the coup, in conveying to Marshal Feng his strong disapproval of it, and according to the political gossip in the North he reiterated his objections so forcibly when they met that their relations became strained to the breaking point. While we have seen no comments on the subject by Marshal CHANG TSO-LIN reported in the Press, there is no reason to suppose that he supports Marshal Feng's action; on the contrary, though he has on several occasions repudiated any sympathy with movements for the restoration of the monarchy, it will be generally regarded as extremely unlikely that he would lend any encouragement to the breaking of the pledges the original Republican Government gave when the Manchu Court agreed to abdicate. Thus we are compelled to look for the explanation in the attitude which Marshal Feng assumes towards his isolation. The cables have hitherto conveyed the impression that his withdrawal into the wilderness, as it were, was an act of his own volition, and it seemed to redound to his credit, since there was no possible hope of peace so long as he remained in a position of power and influence in Peking, as that would have been an obvious challenge to Wu Pei-fu and his military supporters in the provinces of the Yangtze. With the self-effacement of Marshal Feng there seemed to be some prospect of a reconciliation between Wu and CHANG through the mediation of the new Chief Executive who seems to command the confidence of both. The President's rejection of Marshal Feng's resignation will not be taken, at present, at its face value. In pre-Republican days etiquette in these matters required that a resignation, or a refusal to occupy a post, should be rejected not merely on the first occasion, but even on the second and the third, and then, if the resignation or refusal was still pressed it was accepted with regret. It is possible that Marshal TUAX, trained as he was in the old school of officials, is but playing this little comedy. As against this general view of the position we have the statement in to-day's cable that Marshal Feng has been greatly chagrined by his exclusion from high office. We would like to be assured that our own reading of the situation is the correct one, but as a writer in the Observer, a month ago, remarked, "Chinese politics would baffle the cleverest politician of the West; and they still leave the oldest 'China hand' guessing."

Since the foregoing lines were written a cable from Japan has come to hand which states that the ex-Emperor asked for the good offices of the Japanese Legation to enable him to proceed to Mukden. There has been no information that he had previously asked for the permission of the new Government in Peking to go to Mukden, or even that he had endeavoured to interest the "uncrowned King of Manchuria" in this ambition, although Marshal CHANG TSO-LIN appears to be still in Peking. Evidently it is thought in the Court circles that the young ex-Emperor would be safer in Mukden than in Peking—but there are not wanting politicians in Peking who are without confidence in the professions of Republican faith made by CHANG TSO-LIN, and the desire of the ex-Emperor to go to Mukden would certainly be widely regarded in the country as having a sinister significance. His refuting in the Japanese Legation certainly complicates the situation and makes the outlook more obscure than it appeared to be before that step was taken.

Yesterday being St. Andrew's Day, the annual Church Parade of the Scottish Section, Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps, took place at the Union Church. About 70 members of the Company, headed by the pipe band and under the command of Lieut. J. B. Ross, marched from Volunteer Headquarters to the Church, where the minister, the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonachie, conducted the service. The officers and committee of the St. Andrew's Society were among a full attendance.

H.E. the Governor has been pleased to accept the resignation from the Sanitary Board of Dr. F. M. G. Oozio. The election of a new member is fixed for December 11th. All persons on the Jury Lists, and those who are declared by section 4 of the Jury Ordinance, 1887, to be not liable to serve as jurors: "provided that no person who holds any office or situation of emolument under the Crown shall be entitled to form part of the said electorate; and all persons of sound mind who have previously been included in either of the said juror lists, but have been removed therefrom on account of age or infirmity."

A Daily Telegraph correspondent who has been writing his impressions of Siberia, closes the account with the following paragraph: Two or three days later, I heard an animated discussion in the corridor amongst some Reds, including two diplomatic officials, and observed that one foreigner, who could speak Russian, was listening intently. Later he explained, "The newspapers report that there has been a rising in China," he said. "The Russians were saying 'Good! Good! I hope they kill all the British and Americans. What we want in China is plenty of blood!'"

CANTON NEWS.

CHEN CHIUNG MING TO ADVANCE ON CANTON?

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

General Chen Chiung-ming, commander-in-chief of the Cantonese Army now at Swatow, will hold a formal conference of his commanders to-day (December 1st), when it is expected that he will issue an order to march on Canton to oust the Kuomintang regime.

General Chen, on November 23th, issued a statement which may be briefly translated as follows:—

"Our Cantonese Army has always looked upon the restoration of peace and integrity of Kwangtung as its primary duty. Why have all officers and men of our army suffered, and so many citizens contributed towards their support these two long years, if the salvation of Kwangtung was not their object? If we fail to act at once, how can we fulfil the expectation of the people? Since the massacre of people and destruction of property in the Western City of Canton, delegations after delegations of Canton and Hongkong merchants have approached us at Hoifung and Swatow with a request to move our troops to save the people from further suffering. Under this urgent pressure, we cannot refrain from hastening our mission of relief. The false report that I, Chiung-ming, am not in favour of advancing towards Canton has been a fabrication of the enemy. The Cantonese people are ready to welcome our return, and we cannot shirk our duty. Let us all be united with one heart and one spirit in the co-operation for the salvation of Kwangtung. All officers and men of our army are hereby ordered to return immediately to their several posts and be prepared for the attack. Detailed orders will be issued soon after a further conference of chief commanders. All should be prepared to advance for the relief of Kwangtung without further delay."

YUNNANESE & CANTONESE.

It is believed that the split between the Cantonese and the Yunnanese commands over the question of local finance will probably end in an armed conflict in Canton. Some weeks before Dr. Sun Yat Sen departed for the North he asked the several commanders who have been commandeering the proceeds of taxes to give up the practice, and among the first to accede to the suggestion was General Fan Shek-shang of the Yunnanese Army. General Hsu Chung-chi of the Cantonese units supporting the Reds has failed, however, to comply with the request despite the protests of the Yunnanese.

NOTABLE VOLUNTEER OFFICER'S DEATH.

Mr. Poon Cheng-man, who for some years commanded the Merchants Volunteers of Koonshan, an important city near Canton, died, on November 17th. Mr. Poon directed the relief of the siege of Long-sum, an important silk centre which the Reds failed to loot on November 17th. Last summer Mr. Poon led a large force of Volunteers to Kowloon and saved that West River port from total destruction at the hands of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's Yunnanese mercenaries.

A GRIEVANCE AGAINST THE BRITISH CONSULATE.

Mr. Hu Han-min, acting Generalissimo in Canton, has written to Mr. E. Amau, Japanese Consul-General, who is the Senior Consul, complaining that the British Consulate-General is tolerating the presence in Shamen of Mr. Chan Lim Chung, comrade of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Canton Branch. Mr. Hu is accusing Mr. Chan of treason against the Kuomintang regime in Canton, because of his connection with the Canton Merchants Volunteer Corps, of which his brother, Mr. Chan Lim Pak, is the commander. Mr. Amau so far has paid no official notice to the complaint, as Shamen is a concession over which he has no jurisdiction whatever and he himself is subject to the British and French municipal regulations. Some weeks ago Mr. Hu also wrote to the British Consulate-General on the same subject, but Mr. Bertrand Giles, officiating in the absence on furlough of Sir James Jamieson, gave him no encouragement in the effort to persecute all those opposing the Kuomintang Party in Canton.

THE CENTRAL BANK.

The Central Bank in Canton, an institution founded by Dr. Sun Yat Sen with his brother-in-law, Mr. T. V. Soong, as managing-director, for the purpose of issuing unsecured paper money, is planning to open branches at Kowloon, Foshan, Heungshan, and other places.

A UNIVERSITY FOR KWANGSI.

The Province of Kwangsi, like Kwangtung, is planning to have a university for the benefit of middle school students who wish to proceed further in their education after graduation. Mr. Lee Chung-jen, a military commander in Kwangtung who exerts a little influence in the civil administration, has cabled Dr. Ma Chun-wu, a returned student from Germany and an ex-Governor of Kwangsi, to return from Shanghai to Wuchow for the promotion of the institution.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE SUDAN MUTINY.

SITUATION SERIOUS BUT NOT CRITICAL.
BRITISH EFFORTS TO AVOID TROUBLE.

LONDON, November 29th.

According to official details received in London the mutiny in the Sudan started on the evening of the 27th. Two platoons of Sudanese, with two Vickers guns, were encountered in the Khedival Avenue near the Egyptian Army Hospital by two British platoons, both forces face to face at a distance of 150 yards. The British officer unsuccessfully tried to persuade the mutineers to obey orders. A black officer acted as spokesman for the mutineers. Towards dusk the acting Sirdar arrived and addressed the mutineers. Someone in the darkness shouted in Arabic that the mutineers refused to recognise the acting Sirdar. The latter again asked if the mutineers would take orders and an answer was returned in the negative.

Orders were then given to round up the mutineers.

When addressing the mutineers, who were en route to Gordon College at the time, the British officer and Colonel Huddleston, the acting Sirdar, advanced alone in front of the British contingent, Col. Huddleston emphasising his identity. The behaviour of the rest of the Sudanese troops, so far excellent, remains normal.

Diplomatic circles in London describe the situation as serious but not critical.

IDENTITY OF SHOT BRITISH OFFICER.

It appears from a report from Reuter's Cairo correspondent that the platoon which encountered the mutineers on the evening of the 27th consisted of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. The mutineers were given every opportunity to surrender. They replied to the British fire with rifles and machine guns and then withdrew under cover of darkness. Their main body was located in a building in the hospital compound. On the morning of the 28th the mutineers fired on the approaching troops, hence it became necessary to demolish the building by gun fire. One officer and 14 men in the building were reported killed. The survivors then surrendered or were collected by the police. The British Army medical officer killed in the hospital was Major Carlyle.

REPORT FROM CAIRO.

CAIRO, November 29th.

An official report states that the situation at Khartum is well in hand and that the mutiny is confined to two platoons of the 11th Sudanese battalion, the survivors of which surrendered after a bombardment in the compound of the Egyptian Army hospital. Two British officers were killed and eight men wounded.

WAFD ATTACKS GOVERNMENT.

CAIRO, November 29th.

The Wafd has issued a further manifesto declaring the arrests to be unconstitutional and that the nation should hold the Government responsible.

The students of Al-Azhar University have published a manifesto urging the continuing of the strike as a protest of "the Government's hostile acts." The Minister of Education exhorted the teachers to endeavour to persuade the students to resume, as he did not want to employ force.

EARLIER CABLES.

THE KHARTUM SITUATION IN HAND.

CAIRO, November 29th.

It is understood that the Egyptian troops at Khartum are not giving trouble, the mutiny being confined to two hundred men of the 11th Sudanese Regiment. The remainder of the battalion are helping to overpower the mutineers.

The East Dorsetts arrive at Port Sudan to-night.

It is not known where the telegraph line to Cairo has been cut.

Telegraph communication with the Sudan is interrupted. The train from Cairo connecting with the Sudan steamer at Wady Halfa is not leaving to-night. There is no further news from Khartum. The military authorities are communicating with Khartum by wireless. The circumstances there are obscure, but it is understood that the situation is well in hand.

The situation at Khartum does not give cause for alarm.

The students' committee at Cairo has issued a manifesto opposing the present Egyptian Government and urging a policy of non-co-operation.

LATEST CABLES.

SECOND OPIUM CONFERENCE.

INDO-AMERICAN SQUABBLE.

GENEVA, November 29th.

The second Opium Conference has reached a critical pass following a four-hour oratorical battle between the American and Indian delegates.

Mr. Campbell (India) and Mr. Clayton (Burma) contested the competence of the Conference to deal with the American proposals. Mr. Porter explained that the American case was largely based on the provisions of the Hague Convention.

Mr. Campbell replied that if the Conference was not limited to the accepted agenda, it would be most difficult if not impossible to continue.

Bishop Brent (America) characterised Mr. Campbell's contentions as unreasonable, unfair and untenable.

The Conference adjourned until December 1st.

THE RELEASE OF VON NATHUSIUS.

GERMAN SATISFACTION.

PARIS, November 30th.

The German Ambassador has expressed to M. Herriot his Government's satisfaction at the release of General Von Nathusius and added that Germany would in their turn release a Frenchman who has been detained in Germany.

Le Petit Parisien remarks that the Ambassador's step does not mean that Germany recognizes the legality of the sentence on Von Nathusius, but distinguishes its attitude from that of the German nationalists who were trying to use the Nathusius affair for electoral aims.

OBITUARY.

FAMOUS ITALIAN COMPOSER.

BRUSSELS, November 29th.

The death is announced of the composer, Puccini.

Giacomo Puccini, the famous Italian composer, received his musical training at the Milan Conservatorio di Musica under Ponchielli. His principal works were: Edgar (1889), La Boheme (1896), La Tosca (1900), Madame Butterfly (1904), and La Rondine (1916). He has passed away at the age of 66 years.

THE SHIPPING STRIKE IN AUSTRALIA.

P. & O. VESSEL'S DIFFICULTIES.

FREIGHT RATES MAY RISE.

ADELAIDE, November 29th.

The tug employees have refused to handle the P. & O. s.s. Albatros, which is anchored three miles from the wharves, while her lifeboats have brought ashore the passengers, mails and stores.

The Albatros's stewards were forced to push the mail van to the wharf, the railwaymen refusing to shunt it.

LATER.

The Albatros has sailed for Albany.

MELBOURNE, November 29th.

The shipowners here state that a continuance of the strike will inevitably increase the rates.

TURKEY AND BRITAIN.

THE MOSUL FRONTIERS DISPUTE.

LOOKING TO THE LEAGUE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 29th.

In the Assembly the Premier, Fethi Bey, outlining the new Government's programme, said he was determined to maintain an army strong enough to ensure the security and integrity of the frontiers; and intended to respect all engagements entered into by previous Governments, while anxiously awaiting an equitable solution of the Mosul frontier question at the hands of the League, as this was the only obstacle to a resumption of the traditional friendship with Britain.

The Chamber unanimously passed a vote of confidence in the new Government.

FURTHER ARRESTS.

To-day's arrests include five Deputies and a leader of Alexandria students, also a Mohammedan who was not tried in the last conspiracy case owing to illness, and an official of the Ministry of Agriculture. The remainder are described as "revolutionary students."

Rumour persists in connecting the arrests with a plot against Lord Allenby, also the murder of the Sirdar.

It appears that three Ministers threatened to resign unless the three Zaghulists arrested yesterday were handed over to the Egyptian Government. The immediate acquiescence of the British authorities averted a crisis.

Details of the mutiny at Khartum have not yet been received but it is known that there was a certain restlessness among the 11th Battalion last August.

A big meeting of students at Al-Azhar University passed off without incident. British cavalry and infantry paraded Cairo this morning. Air reconnaissances were carried out over the principal towns. All is quiet.

NO SYMPATHY FROM FRANCE.

PARIS, November 29th.

The Egyptian protest to the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Chamber, to which it was automatically referred. The protest was read, and then ordered to be placed in the archives, without discussion. The document was therefore shelved.

EARLIER CABLES.

THE ZINOVIEFF LETTER.

SOVIET REPLY TO BRITISH NOTE.

PLEA FOR ARBITRATION.

LONDON, November 29th.

The Russian reply to the British Note dealing with the Zinovieff letter expresses extreme surprise that, after declining the offer of an investigation of the document by an impartial court, the British Government makes "vague statements, unsupported by any evidence that the document is genuine," and refuses to accept such "unproved allegations."

It accuses the British Government of endeavouring to evade the arbitration offer by allegations regarding the relationship of the Communist International with the Soviet Government, and it reiterates "the complete political and administrative independence of the International."

The reply also insists on the offer of arbitration as the only means of an unbiased settlement.

It is signed by M. Rakovsky, and says it is understood that the British trade union delegation at present in Moscow has unanimously come to the conclusion that the document is a forgery.

THE DEAD TREATIES.

Replying to the British Note of November 21st refusing to advise the ratification of the Anglo-Russian treaties, the Soviet expresses regret at this decision. It disavows responsibility "for the feeling of discontent which the decision of the British Government will cause in both countries."

THE MYSTERIOUS "MR. A."

SENSATIONAL CONSPIRACY TRIAL.

EASTERN POTENTATE BLACK-MAILED.

LONDON, November 29th.

A very sensational case has ended in the law courts to-day after eight days' hearing.

The plaintiff, Charles Robinson, book-maker, sued the Midland Bank for £15,000 alleged to have been paid into his account. The bank asserted that the money was not his, and alternatively that it had been obtained by means of a blackmailing conspiracy in which Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, her friend Mrs. Bevan, two men, Newton and Hobbs, and the aide de camp of an Eastern potentate, whose name was not divulged, were involved.

It was alleged that the conspirators enticed the potentate, who was mentioned in court as "Mr. A," with Mrs. Robinson in a hotel in Paris, Newton posing as the lady's husband, and "A" through fear of exposure, gave two cheques each for £150,000, one of which was stopped but the other was paid in to the Midland Bank by Hobbs, who, using the name of Robinson, drew out the money, £25,000 of which was paid to the Robinsons while the other alleged conspirators shared the remainder.

The Robinsons denied any conspiracy, and alleged they were unaware until later that more than £25,000 had been paid by "A."

The jury found there was a conspiracy, but that the Robinsons were not parties thereto.

The Judge ruled that the bank was not guilty of negligence. Judgment has been deferred, pending legal arguments next week.

WITNESS CHARGED WITH RECEIVING.

STOLEN CHEQUE FOR £150,000.

LATER.

Hobbs was arrested at Gravesend and brought back to London. He was charged at Bow Street under the Larceny Act with receiving on December 27th, 1919, a banker's cheque for the payment of £150,000 which cheque was stolen from abroad. He was remanded until December 31st in custody.

A Scotland Yard inspector described the arrest of Hobbs at Gravesend when he was on the point of embarking for Rotterdam. When the warrant was read Hobbs described it as quite absurd.

FRENCH DEBT TO AMERICA.

FUNDING NEGOTIATIONS.

PARIS, November 29th.

Questioned regarding the reports from Washington to the effect that France has approached the United States with a view to the funding of the French debt to America, M. Clementel, Minister of Finance, replied that hitherto there had only been conversations between M. Jussier and the French Ambassador, and Mr. Mellon, Secretary of the American Treasury, the upshot of which was that the United States agreed that the rate of interest should be very low, while there is ground to hope that the principle will be considerably reduced.

WASHINGTON, November 29th.

Following the exchange of Franco-American despatches, Mr. Mellon has summoned a meeting of the debt funding commission for December 1st.

ALL BLACKS BEAT WALES.

LONDON, November 29th.

New Zealand defeated Wales by 19 points to nil at Swansea.

The match was played in sunny weather before 30,000 spectators. After nine minutes play Nicholls scored a penalty goal. The All-Blacks carried out several splendid attacks, following-up with great speed and tackling thoroughly. Eventually M. Brownlie got a try, Nicholls converting. The visitors' defence was fully capable of dealing with the occasional Welsh rushes.

Near the interval Irvine scored a try which was not converted.

At half-time the All-Blacks were leading by 11 clear points.

At the resumption the Welsh forwards attacked for some time, but met with a very sound defence. The visitors were most skilful in their handling. Stevenson got a try and then Irvine went over, Nicholls converting the latter. The New Zealanders kept up a great pace until the end.

The Kansas Senator Curtis has been selected to succeed the late Senator Lodge as Republican leader of the Senate.

THE CIVIL WAR IN CHINA.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE EX-EMPEROR.

TAKES REFUGE IN JAPANESE LEGATION.

PEKING, November 30th.

The ex-Emperor, Hsuan Tung, this afternoon took refuge in the Japanese Legation where he is remaining.

There does not seem to have been any cause for him to fear immediate danger.

The refuging of the ex-Emperor is probably due to recent persistent rumours of impending trouble in Peking at the instance of Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang, according to which the safety of Marshal Chang Tso Lin and Marshal Tuan Chi Jui is imperilled through Feng Yu Hsiang's disappointment at not securing an important post in the new Government.

Obviously Hsuan Tung had not the slightest reason to fear danger at the hands of Chang Tso Lin or Tuan Chi Jui, but if a clash occurred between Feng Yu Hsiang and Chang Tso Lin the immediate result would be Feng Yu Hsiang's resumption of control of Peking, as his troops largely outnumber the Feng troops. The situation would then represent a grave peril to Hsuan Tung.

The Legations were quickly made acquainted with this development which seems to have been carried out solely on Hsuan Tung's initiative.

Tokyo, November 30th.

A special telegram to the Jiji from Peking states that the ex-Emperor asked for the Japanese Legation's good offices to enable him to proceed to Mukden.

The communications department announces an interruption of cables with Peking.

PEKING, November 30th.

The Japanese Legation is expected to make a statement regarding Hsuan Tung. Meanwhile, it is understood that the ex-Emperor intends to visit Japan and then proceed to America and Europe, but Tuan Chi Jui is endeavouring to persuade him to return to his father's palace.

FAR EASTERN ENTENTE PREDICTED.

CHINA, RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

LONDON, November 30th.

The Observer anticipates that recent events in China will mark the beginning of important developments not only in China owing to the probability that the new form of Government will secure the acquiescence of the majority of the provinces, but particularly in international relationships.

It says that many things at present are less probable and less natural than a concerted endeavour by China, Russia and Japan to remove their differences and it expresses the opinion that a Far Eastern entente is the most likely of the reactions to the trend of international policy since the war. The writer admits that China may disappoint expectations, as she has done before, but the apparent significance of the means chosen to restore the security and stability of the country should not be missed in Washington and London.

MARSHAL FENG'S RESIGNATION REJECTED.

Another mandate, referring to Feng Yu-hsiang's resignation, says: "Feng Yu-hsiang has rendered much valuable service to his country, and even though the situation has improved, how can we allow him to quit his post? It is, therefore, hoped that Feng Yu-hsiang will do his best to carry out his functions in order to assist in overcoming the present difficulties, and his resignation is therefore rejected."

EDITOR SUMMONED AT SHANGHAI.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

SHANGHAI, November 29th.

A decision of importance to newspaper editors and publishers was given in the Mixed Court yesterday in a case in which the editor of a vernacular paper was summoned for publishing an indecent article in his paper.

The defendant apologised and said that he had dismissed the employee responsible.

The Court ordered the defendant to give a personal bond that he would refrain from publishing articles of this character, and that he would comply with Article 9 of the law governing newspapers. This Article requires newspapers to bear the full names and addresses of the editor, printer and publisher.

The Court also suggested that the police should convey its decision to all newspapers in order to secure compliance with the law (which is similar to one which the Shanghai Municipal Council for several years has vainly tried to have passed by the ratepayers as a by-law).

An Intensely Dramatic Story dealing with the Experience of a Democratic Russian Princess under the Bolshervist Regime.

NORMA TALMADGE

IN

"THE NEW MOON"

"Powerful, vivid and terrible in its effects, 'The New Moon' bares much that is sensual and unscrupulous in Russia's enormities committed under the name of government, at the same time holding attention closely through swift dramatic action wonderfully well visualized by producer Joseph M. Schenck, Norma Talmadge and a brilliant cast."

The power of this Select Production comes very largely from the vitality of its theme and from the dramatic opportunities afforded by actual mandates issued in Russia. The structure of the story is good, and its treatment impressively realistic. When added a cast of exceptionally high order, the values of 'The New Moon' are many and strong. The performance of Norma Talmadge shows that she is constantly improving as an artist. She keeps her youth and leanness while gaining in spiritual charm and in more subtle revelation of mind and feeling. Pedro Cordova as Michael dignifies and elevates every moment of his impersonation, as does Marc MacDermott as the intense Lazoff. No less skilled are the characterizations of cunning Kameneff by Charles Gerard, and brutal Kosloff by Stuart Holmes.

CHURCHGOING IN HONGKONG.

We had been talking to Richard about the absence of his cheery countenance at the Cathedral, and immediately he became voluble. Richard is quite splendid in his way, and has represented the Colony at most things, except cricket. "Faire," he said. "What can a man do? I am booked up to the middle of December. There is the Golf Captain's Cup, the Handicap Prize, and then I must put in a shoot or two with the shock troops." Richard was recognised as representative, and we also detected a lack of proportion in his Sunday programme. Then Mr. French, to whom we spoke later, said that he thought the Cathedral was an admirable institution, a monument of English tradition, and so on; but the thing which kept him away was our use of the Revised Version. Really, how could one possibly listen to anything but the Authorized? Of course, Mr. French occupies a Government post. But most of the men we listened to had a tremendous sense of care for their bodily fitness. "You know, Padre, you must swim in the Summer, and anything under a whole Sunday in the water would be almost suicidal."

But the weakness of all the excuses—and when they are analysed they are found to be woefully weak—lay in the extreme selfishness they displayed. We knew perfectly well that most of these men were able to get a game of something almost every day of the week. The fault was that they turned the admirable advice, "You must play games to keep fit," into, "You must play games and generally indulge in pleasure, to the exclusion of everything else, except your office work." We thought it would be interesting to have a medical statement of how much physical exercise is required by the citizens of the Colony, to keep themselves fit.

The real position is that when people come out East they are up against a non-Churchgoing tradition. This means that they specify far away from contact with the vital things that matter, and in most cases the harm done is more real than apparent. In one sense, there is a peculiar charm about the English pagan public schoolboy; on the other hand, nobody is so unsatisfactory as the man who is physically fit, but who possesses no true moral and spiritual backbone. Moreover, the harm done by the non-Churchgoer is greater here than it is at home, for in this place every Britisher, whether he likes it or not, is really a missionary. He comes out as a representative of Christianity, and, if he is in any sense of the word, a follower of his Master, he cannot but copy his example and go to a place to worship. There are Missionaries who minister to the heathen, and their efforts are made appallingly more difficult by the callous indifference of the many who, claiming the name of Christian, do not make any outward effort to live up to it as regards public worship. This spirit of indifference is carried so far that there are children here who are not even baptised, and many others who do not receive any real instruction in the faith of the Church.

The solution to such a sorry state of things is not easy to find. It would be helpful if more of the elder and leading men in the Colony gave a stronger lead to the younger people in attendance at public worship. The women of the Colony might also use their powerful influence more in this direction. There are some splendid men whom we know, who make a rule never to play games on Sunday, until they have attended Divine Service. What is needed is more outspokenness on this subject, and a realisation that the present attitude lets down the Padres and also the Church, to which everyone owes so much. There are sins of omission, as well as commission, and it is St. Paul, who tells us that we should not forsake the assembling of ourselves together for worship.

If the battle of Waterloo was won on the playing-fields of Eton it was not in the era of Sunday games, and we can be quite certain that our prestige as a British community does not depend upon the vagaries of Fanning fever. We can at least pray that we may be kept "from God's word to be blasphemed among the heathen," and that He may give us grace to form a right judgment on this important question.—St. John's Cathedral Notes.

ST. JOHN'S CATHEDRAL.

THE CHURCH BODY AND FASTING.

"Ascetic" writes in the current number of St. John's Cathedral Notes as follows:—

"I was very much struck in the admirable lecture on Early Buddhism by the Rev. J. A. Romanis Lee at his references to the way in which the great men of the East influenced their followers by various acts of asceticism. Buddha is reputed at one time to have eaten a thousand grains of rice a day and in the course of a few years fasting he cut this amount down to one grain per diem. Gandhi likewise fasts to impress and influence his followers and to make them realise his own earnestness and resolve. May I suggest, Sir, that the members of the Church Body undertake a sort of public fast so long as there is a debt on St. John's Cathedral? It is perhaps unlikely that their main diet is rice, but if they reduced their allowance of food by a quarter of an ounce a day, I feel certain that the public interest and sympathy would soon be aroused and the debt of $3,000 would speedily be cleared. I am aware that such methods are not usually adopted by westerners, but we live in the East and we may learn something from our neighbours."

The Church Body consists of the Bishop of Victoria, The Senior Chaplain, Sir Claude Severn, Mr. M. E. F. Airey, Mr. W. L. Pattenden (Hon. Secretary), Mr. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, Mr. J. Owen Hughes (Hon. Treasurer), and Mr. J. Witchell.]

Managing Operators for U. S. SHIPPING BOARD

THE TRANSPACIFIC FREIGHT

BUREAU.

FACING DISSOLUTION.

WRANGLE OVER BILLS OF LADING.

The controversy over issuing shipped-on-board bills of lading for raw silk cargo from Japan ports before the goods are actually on board Trans-Pacific steamers has assumed such proportions that it threatens the very existence of the Trans-Pacific Freight Bureau.

An important conference was convened recently in Kobe in an effort to settle the present difficulty amicably. Mr. E. F. Townsend, Oriental Traffic Manager for the Dollar and Admiral Oriental Lines; Mr. V. M. Smith, of the United States Shipping Board; and Mr. Allan Cameron, Oriental manager for the Canadian Pacific, are arriving in Kobe on Sunday from Hongkong and Shanghai on the Admiral Line steamer President Madison and the conference is being postponed until their arrival.

BREAK WITH BUREAU LIKELY.

Should a solution to the present difficulty fail to be arranged, the alternative is that the Shipping Board lines may elect to withdraw from the Trans-Pacific Freight Bureau.

The practice of issuing shipped-on-board bills of lading on silk cargo prior to actual loading of such cargo was discontinued some weeks ago by the Admiral Oriental, Pacific Mail, Struthers and Barry, and the Columbia Pacific Shipping Company in Kobe and Yokohama by order of the United States Shipping Board. The practice is outlawed by American statute.

All of the other members of the Bureau, however, with the exception of the Shipping Board Lines, have continued to issue bills of lading before receiving mate's receipts, to the obvious disadvantage of the line that have discontinued the practice. It has been customary to cover any possible loss through non-loading or damage of cargo before loading, exacting a guarantee from shippers. Recently the shipowners suggested that a letter of guarantee from the Japan Export Association, be substituted for the shippers' guarantee to make the guarantee more effective.

COMPROMISE IS REJECTED.

This proposal was submitted to the United States Shipping Board as a compromise, but likewise was declared unacceptable and illegal as far as American law is concerned.

Moreover, it is reported that the Shipping Board has issued instructions to its operators that unless the bill of lading controversy can be satisfactorily settled, that the alternative may be the withdrawal of the Shipping Board operators from the Trans-Pacific Freight Bureau. Such action would in all probability sound the death knell of the Bureau and usher in an era of competitive rate cutting.

The issue probably will be decided this week.—Y.M. Daily News.

S.O.S. AT SEA.

[BY J. J. McGRATH.]

Over all the sea there falls a sudden hush. The thousand voices of ships and land stations that a moment ago, were clamouring of passengers, cargoes, bunkers and water, have faded into silence, and land and sea is listening in awed, breathless expectation, for the distant signal at whose first, faint murmur this deep, stillness fell upon the world.

Presently, from out the stillness, comes a plaintive wail from the far southward:

"Who said S.O.S.?"

Immediately the hush is shattered by a score of angry ships: "Q.R.T., S.O.S.!" ("Stop transmitting: vessel in distress.") And the curious one joins the great, invisible throng of listeners.

Suddenly, from over the grey wastes of ocean, comes the call, whispering faintly in the telephones: "S.O.S. S.O.S. S.O.S. Here the s.s. E—struck submerged wreckage in latitude 47.10 north, longitude 182.5 west. Heavy list to port; forepeak flooding. Is urgent need of assistance."

From an Atlantic liner flashes an instantaneous reply: "Received O.K. Am proceeding to your assistance." E forthwith comes a clamorous outburst as ships and land stations take up the cry of the sinking ship.

Even as the beacon-fires that once flared above the Channel ultimately warned "the burghers of Carlisle," so the call flies from station to station and from land to land. Ushant and Land's End cry it up and down the English Channel and far out to the Western Ocean. Finistère, Oporto and Lisbon pass the word down the European coast until, at length, the grim Rock tells it to the Mediterranean. Algiers discusses it briefly with an East-bound Messageries boat, and a homeward-bound P. & O. off Cape St. Vincent proceeds, after the lofty manner of P. & O. boats, to broadcast it to lesser craft.

Ship after ship calls the sinking vessel and acknowledges the S.O.S. usually adding her own position and approximate distance from the scene of the accident. Distantly, the distressed vessel can be heard talking with craft that are rapidly approaching to her assistance, reporting the progress of the hungry sea and the probable time she expects to be able to remain afloat.

Later, an impatient vessel demands: "Is that S.O.S. clear yet?" The reply of one of the rescuers comes back distinctly: "Yes. Three ships now standing by her." The impatient one proceeds to call up a sister-ship: "What about that radio for the 'Old Man'! Rush it!" Ship and shore take up the cry: "All clear, Go ahead!" Immediately the innumerable voices of land and sea burst forth, seeking to make-up for lost time in a sudden, fierce access of energy. A violent babel of sound that gradually eases to a steady tumult; the myriad, unceasing wireless voices to which night or day brings but little variation or surcease, the unwearied and monotonous clamour of those who transact incessantly the affairs of ships and men.
